ARCHITECTURAL CONTROL POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Introduction

The purpose of this document is to make all homeowners aware of the requirements, set forth by the Board of Directors, associated with making improvements to any Buck Island property.

Buck Island is a family-oriented community located on the beautiful northern beaches of the Outer Banks. This quaint, stylish community is conveniently located within walking distance to numerous shops, local restaurants and area attractions making Buck Island an ideal destination for all. With a total of 112 lots, about half are vacation rental properties. The remaining properties are private homes owned by full time residents and private vacation homeowners. Buck Island is a wonderful community loaded with amenities that also exudes the feeling of old southern charm, with its beautiful homes, tree-lined streets and meticulously landscaped lawns.

The Buck Island Association, Inc. Board of Directors establishes these Guidelines to ensure that all residents of Buck Island may enjoy the elegance and sophistication of unique architectural forms in a distinctive natural environment. Before building or making any changes to the exterior and/or landscaping of a Buck Island property, the Homeowner and Contractor must first complete an application process and gain approval from the Architectural Review Committee. This package contains the required applications and supporting documents to help facilitate approval. Your builder can assist you in completing and submitting the application. Please ensure that all documents are complete and fees, if required, are enclosed before submission. Incomplete applications will be returned to the applicant for completion and resubmission. A builder application is also included, if required.

Architectural Review Committee Procedures:

The following Design Guidelines contain summaries, references and quotations from selected provisions of the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions (as amended). Although these design guidelines have been made a part of Design Guidelines for Buck Island, owners are encouraged to review the referenced portion of the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions (as amended) for complete details on the specific topics related to any application to be submitted. If a conflict should arise between these Design Guidelines and the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions (as amended), the provisions of the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions (as amended) shall prevail over any provisions contained herein. Along with defining community rules concerning property use, the Design Guidelines are also intended to uphold the neighborhood's high standards by establishing building requirements for the construction and/or remodeling of residences. These Design Guidelines demonstrate to each homeowner, a firm commitment by the Association to maintaining the aesthetic appeal of the community. We ask for your assistance and cooperation in following these procedures to help keep Buck Island a wonderful place to live and vacation.

ARCHITECTURAL CONTROL

Please refer to Article XI and XII of the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions (as amended)

Architectural Review Process

In accordance with the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions, and Restrictions (as amended) for Buck Island, the Architectural Review Committee has adopted the following Design Guidelines for architectural improvements, which shall apply to all lots within Buck Island.

Each Lot Owner should read, review, and get acquainted with the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions and Restrictions (as amended) recorded with the Register of Deeds of Currituck County and with these Design Guidelines. The Design Guidelines may be amended from time to time by the Architectural Review Committee and approved by the Board of Directors. These documents are intended to enhance property values and to maintain the high standards of development within Buck Island.

Following the Design Guidelines does not eliminate the need for submission of plans for approval by the Architectural Review Committee.

Even if a subject addition or alteration is identical to another that has been approved, it must be submitted for approval. Each application will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis due to different conditions on a particular lot.

However, if an item is described as pre-approved and the Design Guidelines are being precisely followed for the item, no submission is necessary.

If a Homeowner wishes to appeal a decision of the Architectural Review Committee, the following process should be followed:

1. Appeal the decision in writing to the Architectural Review Committee through the Association Manager. The Committee will review the appeal and render a decision.
2. If this appeal decision is not satisfactory, the Homeowner may appeal in writing to the Board of Directors for Buck Island.

Failure to submit addition or alteration plans to the Architectural Review Committee or failure to comply with the decisions of the committee may subject the homeowner to the violation process that potentially includes fines and/or returning the property to its original state.

In the event of any inconsistency between this Design Guidelines and the Declaration of Covenants, Conditions, and Restrictions (as amended), the Declaration shall prevail.

ALL ARCHITECTURAL APPROVALS WILL BE CONDITIONED UPON COMPLIANCE WITH APPLICABLE COUNTY AND STATE BUILDING CODES.

Review: Approval or Disapproval

The Architectural Review Committee Shall Have Forty-five (45) Calendar Days after plans submission to approve or disapprove plans. Review will include, but not be limited to, consideration of materials, quality of workmanship, colors, consistency with the external design and color of existing structures on the lot and on neighboring lots. The location of the improvement with respect to topography and finished grade elevation is also considered. Neither the Architectural Review Committee, nor the Board of Directors shall have any liability in connection with or related to approved plans and specifications of improvements. The approval of the plans does not mean that judgment is passed on the structural soundness of any addition nor its effect upon existing or future drainage. The review of the plans is for aesthetic purposes only.

Approval Required:

De vegetation, excavation or grading work shall not be performed on any lot without prior written approval of the Architectural Review Committee. No improvement shall be constructed or installed on any lot without the prior written approval of the Architectural Review Committee. No addition, alteration, repair, change or other work, which in any way alters the exterior appearance of any part of a lot, or any improvements located thereon, shall be made or done without the prior written approval of the Architectural Review Committee. Any owner desiring approval of the Architectural Review Committee for the construction, installation, addition, alteration, repair, change or replacement of any improvement shall submit to the Architectural Review Committee a written request for approval, specifying in detail, the nature and extent of the work that the owner desires to perform. No work is to commence until a signed approval is received. (See page 24 for Approval Form).

It is the homeowners' responsibility to ensure that any proposed construction is coordinated with, and where applicable, approved by federal, state and local government agencies. It is also important to note that the Architectural Review Committee process is not in any way related to any approvals that may also be required by federal, state and local government agencies.

A government approval does not replace the requirement for Architectural Review Committee approval. While the Committee may take up to forty-five days to process requests for approval, if said approval is not received within forty-five days then approval is deemed to be granted provided that no portion of the request is prohibited by rules issued by any other governing agency.
